

Compact fluorescent light bulbs equal Big Savings for members

Pioneer has been leading the way with opportunities to save money on your electric bills. We have had a vast array of energy-saving programs for our members for decades. Over the next several months, I will be highlighting our existing programs along with ideas for further savings in the future. One relatively recent program offering is our Compact the lifetime of each bulb is an additional $56 per bulb or $504 for nine installed bulbs. About 3,750 members have participated in this program so far, with an estimated electricity savings of more than $1.8 million. Pioneer members have placed more than 33,000 CFL bulbs in service! Great job saving money!

Exchanging incandescent light bulbs for CFLs is a big money saver!

Member Questions Use of Service Trucks After Hours

Recently, a member asked me why Pioneer has some employees drive Pioneer-owned service vehicles home each night and within the community. Pioneer has a set of engineers, foremen and service technicians drive a limited number of vehicles home so they are ready at a moment's notice should electrical problems occur after hours. Pioneer vehicles have specialized equipment to work on the electric system. Our goal is to provide the quickest response time when 911 calls come in and lines go down, threatening the safety of the public. When employees respond directly from home, critical time is saved that could save a life should a wire come down upon a car in a vehicle accident or other service emergencies. Local first responders in fire and police departments throughout our communities appreciate our quick response time.

Additionally, some larger industrial members reimburse our cost for this service to have rapid service restoration for their unique needs. This enhances the service for some members and ultimately benefits all members by having employees "on-call" at all hours. Our first goal is to provide high-quality, responsive service to you — having employees drive vehicles home and within the community helps accomplish this objective.

Fluorescent Light (CFL) Bulb Replacement program.

This program was launched in 2008 in conjunction with Buckeye Power, Pioneer's electric power generation cooperative, and is coming to an end. The goal of the program is to use energy efficiency measures to reduce costs for you today and to avoid building expensive power plants, saving money for our members in the future.

Pioneer will provide our residential members up to nine (9) CFL bulbs for free, while supplies last. Every residential member qualifies for one free CFL bulb for every incandescent bulb that is brought to our Piqua or Urbana offices. Many of you have already received your light bulbs. Please call ahead to verify the number of bulbs you may bring in for replacement. The savings for members for the nine free bulbs is about $33, and the energy savings for

The Cooperative Difference

Every October since 1930, not-for-profit cooperatives of all stripes have celebrated Cooperative Month. During this time, it makes sense to highlight the qualities that make electric cooperatives different from other types of utilities and businesses.

For starters, electric co-ops are owned by those we serve. That's why those who receive electric service from us are called members, not customers. Without members, there would be no Pioneer Electric Cooperative.

Members maintain democratic control of our co-op, which means you elect fellow members to represent you on the board of trustees every year at our annual meeting. As a bonus, co-op members receive special benefits through programs like our energy audits or Co-op Connections® Card. We also return margins ("profits") to our members in the form of capital credits.

LOCAL.
TRUSTED.
SERVING YOU.™

One principle that sets us apart from other businesses is our concern for community. As a cooperative, we have a special responsibility to support the areas in which our members live and work. From sponsoring a local school's baseball team to supporting new jobs and industry through our economic development efforts, we stand as a driving force in our community.

Of course, co-ops span all industries, including credit unions, dairy operations, health care, housing and much more. There are more than 29,000 co-ops across the nation. And not all are small or rural. Just look at nationally known co-ops like Sunkist, Ace Hardware and Land O' Lakes.

Overall, co-ops are more accessible than other types of businesses. We give our members a voice, and we are local — living and working alongside those we serve.

That's the cooperative difference!

YOU get the credit

Electric cooperatives aren't like other utilities — YOU, as a consumer and a member, own a portion of the business. And one benefit of that membership involves the allocation of excess revenue, called margins, in the form of capital credits.

Electric co-ops operate at cost — collecting enough revenue to run and expand the business but with no need to raise rates to generate profits for distant shareholders. When Pioneer Electric Cooperative has money left over, it's allocated back to you and other members as capital credits. When the Cooperative's financial position permits, we retire, or pay, the capital credits to members in cash or as a bill credit. Pioneer has retired more than $27 million in capital credits to members since 1981.

"Allocating and retiring excess revenue to members helps distinguish cooperatives," points out Ron Salyer, president/CEO. "We're proud to support our communities by putting money back into the local economy — and into the pockets of those we serve. It makes our business model special."

The retirement of capital credits — so called because members provide capital to the cooperative for it to operate and expand — depends on our financial status. Pioneer holds onto allocated capital credits to cover emergencies and other unexpected events, and to expand its electric system, all of which may require large-scale construction of poles and wires. This action decreases the need to raise rates or borrow money to pay for the infrastructure. After a number of years, as financial conditions permit, Pioneer may decide to retire a set amount of capital credits — this past spring we returned more than $2.8 million to our members.

Consumer-members are annually allocated capital credits based on the amount of electricity they consumed during a year. "Margins earned from electric revenues are the only real source of equity for not-for-profit electric cooperatives," says Rich Larochelle, CFC senior vice president, corporate relations. "Investors in CFC look to the underlying financial strength of our member electric cooperatives — and strong and consistent equity levels are one key aspect of financial strength. So it's essential to maintain the right balance between retiring capital credits to members and retaining sufficient equity on its balance sheet."

He adds: "Cooperatives do a good job of striking that balance. That contributes to CFC's ability to offer attractive rates on loans, which in turn helps cooperatives keep costs low."

"Retiring capital credits is just one more way Pioneer is looking out for you," Salyer said.

How Do Capital Credits Work?

Because electric co-ops operate at cost, any excess revenues, called margins, are returned to members in the form of capital credits.

Your co-op notifies you of how and when you'll receive your capital credits retirements.

1
Your co-op tracks how much electricity you buy and how much money you pay for it throughout the year.

Electric co-ops have retired

$9.5 billion
to members since 1988.

2
At the end of the year, your co-op completes financial matters and determines whether there is excess revenue, called margins.

4
When the co-op's financial condition permits, your board of directors/trustees decides to retire, or pay, the capital credits.

3
Your co-op allocates the margins to members as capital credits based upon their use of electricity during the year.

Where are they NOW?

Pioneer is requesting your assistance in locating these former members so they may receive the refunds due them. These former members' applications for general refund were returned as "insufficient address" by the U.S. Post Office. Their names are listed below. If you have a current address on any of these individuals, please contact the Member Service Center at 1-800-762-0997 or by e-mail at mscenter@pioneerec.com.

Please note, if you should move off Pioneer's system, you must keep us informed as to your address. When you become eligible for a capital credit refund, your check will be mailed to you. Each year active members receive a statement showing the amount of their individual capital credit accrual. The money is refunded when it is financially feasible to do so as designated by the board of trustees.
